“ My son and I are so saddened by Claude's passing. We knew him because he was an honored member of the "Horse World" . Claude was a true Horseman down to his pressed shirts and pleats in his jeans. A friend commented on the fact that Claude's fencing on his farm was not very good. They couldn't understand why his horses never got out and ran away. Claude's horses knew to stay where they were truly loved and understood. Now Claude can ride in the sky and look down on all horses. I think he'll like that. RIP Andre and Chris Dumas
